High School Girls Meet Here Saturday

W. S. G. A. Plans Elaborate May Day; Mortar Board Taps

• HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS all over Washington and vicinity will gather on this campus Saturday to be the guests of the University in its annual May Day celebration.

The purpose of this program is to familiarize senior girls with the University, its activities, and its students. The invitations were made by speakers sent out to the various high schools These speakers were members of the University, and, for the most part, alumni of the high schools to which they were sent.

The girls will be guests at luncheon and tea, will inspect the campus and buildings and will be entertained by the University Dance Groups.

Fourth May Day

This is the fourth year that the May Day activities will have been held. Last year the Pan-Hellenic Council and the Sorority Council, no longer in existence, were in charge. This year the Women's Student Government Association will head the function. Those within the organization who are participating in order to make this an outstanding May Day are: Elsie Carper, president of the organization; Virginia Birkby, Kay Bowen, Mina Brown, Mary Jo Oslin, Eleanor Sherbourne, Virginia Tehas and Connie Wadden.

Mortar Board, honorary activities society, will conduct a part of the program, and it will be on this occasion that the outstanding junior girls will be tapped for membership next year.

The program for the day will start with 12 o'clock registration at Columbian House, followed by a tour of the campus. Volunteers from sororities and other organizations will serve as sponsors for the tour which will include the Library, Strong Hall, Sorority Hall and other buildings of interest.

Luncheon in Student Club

At 1:15 there will be a luncheon in the Student Club. The luncheon will be served by the Faculty Club and will be followed by a program consisting of Mortar Board talks on various activities on campus and short talks by Mrs. Barrows and Dean Johnstone.

Lisner Terrace will serve as a stage for the Square Dance and Modern Dance Groups at 3:30. The winners of the Interfraternity Sing will follow. After the singing will come the long-awaited Mortar Board tapping.

The concluding activity will be the informal tea on the roof of Strong Hall at 3:45.

Mortar Board Donates $50

• HANDING OVER a $50 check to Helen Hanford is Hazel Smallwood, president of Mortar Board. The check is a contribution of that organization to the Women's Activities Building Drive. The $50 was accumulated by a silver tea. Virginia Birkby and Helen McNeil, other members of Mortar Board, look on.

"You Can't Take It With You" Draws Curtain On Drama Season

Keith Adamson Leads Players In Pulitzer-prize Winner

• CUE AND CURTAIN'S most active season in history ends Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights with the presentation of "You Can't Take It With You," the farce by George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart that made Broadway laugh night after night for over two years. The laugh hit, Pulitzer Prize play for 1937, now directed by Floyd L. Sparks, will be given at the Western Presbyterian Church, 1906 H Street. Curtain time is 8:35 for each of the three nights.

The presentation of "You Can't Take It With You" is the first Cue and Curtain production of a three-act comedy in three years. In addition, it marks the second Pulitzer Prize play to be given by the campus group this season. Thornton Wilder's "Our Town," 1938 prize-winning play, was given January 12 and 13 to full houses, and was received with such applause that a repeat-engagement was necessary February 10.

Adamson in "Old Man" Lead

Keith Adamson plays his fourth "old man" of the current season as Grandpa Vanderhof, the leading role of the play. Adamson has appeared in each of the six productions given by Cue and Curtain this year—the only actor to do this.

In the leading character role is Jayne Harrison, the Mirianne of last year's presentation of "Winterset," who depicts Penelope Sycamore.

Elaine Berry, secretary of Cue and Curtain, leaves her administrative duties for the first time this year to play Alice Sycamore, the romantic lead. Opposite her as Tony Kirby is Allen L. Dewey, one of Cue and Curtain's outstanding actors for the past three years, and the Nero in Eugene M. Lerner's "Destiny."

Marjorie Beall in Ballet Role

Marjorie Beall, another veteran of the organization both as a student-director and actor, achieves an ambition in assuming the part of the ballet-dancing Essie. Rita La Combe returns to Cue and Curtain activities after a year's absence to play Gay Wellington, the broken-down actress; and Robert Dearth appears for the first time in the university as the Russian wrestler, Georgetown Holds Stolen Car! Yours?

• THE HATCHET has just received definite evidence that Georgetown is in possession of a stolen car which may belong to a student of this University. This evidence, which consists of a letter from the sheriff, was received last week by President Cloyd Heck Marvin, and turned over to the editors.

The car, which bears Michigan license tags, has "George Washington College," and William & Mary College (Williamsburg, Va.) stickers on the windshield, which led Sheriff Bruorton to believe that it may possibly belong to a G. W. student.

His description of the automobile:

Buick sedan, 40-51 model, motor number, 53804381; series number, 13629684; license number, TE-11-09.

Georgetown, by the way, is the name of a county in South Carolina. Bruorton is Georgetown's sheriff.

Baffling Problem Confronts Propsman Giles in Play

• THE IDEAL PROPS DIRECTOR for "You Can't Take It With You," Cue and Curtain's forthcoming production of May 2, 3, 4, would be a super-man combination of museum raider, big game hunter and international chef.

Such is the baffling task confronting Joan Giles, Properties Director for the Pulitzer Prize comedy hit which has a list of 300 properties, including a stuffed crocodile, a plaster foot, firecrackers, a jar of flies adn a printing press. The firecrackers are being manufactured by the Cue and Curtain props committee; Joan is spending her spare moments catching flies.

Helping her track down a pair of Oriental candlesticks, an elephant tusk, a snake solarium, two kittens, and other essential furnishings for the museum-like living room of the Sycamore family, are Terry Wills and Bill Darnall, members of the committee.

Not least among their problems is that of getting the food required in some of the comedy scenes—a platter of spaghetti, corn on the cob, Russian turnovers, roast goose, and a bottle of gin.

An ordinary prop list for a stage play includes from 20 to 30 pieces. A prop list of 300 items, probably the greatest number since the days of David Belasco, is required for the crazy antics of the Sycamore family.

Riding Club Holds Spring Horse Show

• THE SPRING HORSE SHOW of the Riding Club was held Saturday at Meadowbrook Showgrounds. Results of the various classes are as follows:

Results of Classes

Horsemanship Class—open to students and alumni of the University. Won by Jane Marshall on Sportsman. Second, Sam Bagley on Kitty Vee. Third, Dick Bairstow on Graystone. Fourth, Catherine Stewart on Rob Roy.

Hallman Wins Championship

The Championship Class awarded to the rider scoring most points in the second, third, fourth, and seventh events was won by Gardner Hallman on Lady Jack. The Reserve Championship Class awarded on the second highest score for the same events went to Mercer Fadeley on Skippy.

The show, which was attended by between two and three hundred people, had about 60 contestants of which about 10 were from the University.

The committee in charge of the Horse Show consisted of Catherine Stewart, Mary Fanning, Eloise Kielhorn, Marjorie Fakes, Dick Bairstow, Bob Little, Tracy Mulligan, and Cap Gardner.

There will be a meeting of the Riding Club tomorrow night in Columbian House.

French Club Gives Play And Musicale

• LE CERCLE FRANCAIS UNIVERSITAIRE is presenting a musical and theatrical evening at Sorority Hall Tuesday, May 6. At this time the club will present a play, "L'Anglais tel qu'on le parle" or "English as it is Spoken," by Tristan Bernard.

Among the other events of the evening will be a presentation of the French flag and several French books by Leon Dosterd of the French Embassy to Manuel Mendez, president of the club.

Members of the Glee Club will open the program with the "Marseilles," and several musical numbers will follow. Professor Deibert, advisor of the club, will speak.

The play is a short comedy dealing with a young couple eloping to Paris in the post-war days. Jacqueline Owens and Sadi Koylan will portray the eloping couple; Betty Hogson and Julien Cicandel. Nicholas Cokenias, Jack Larsen, Clifford Williamson, Marian Sears, Henri Bernard, Walter Lononossoss complete the cast.

All students of French are cordially invited to attend the program.

Gewehr Speaks On Far East

• WESLEY M. GEWEHR, professor of History at American University, will speak on "The Historical Background of the Far East" at the next meeting of the American Council, Institute of Pacific Relations, on May 2. This is second in a series of seven weekly lectures on the Far East, which have been sponsored by the University.

F. Irvine Burnham, cartographer of the State Department, first speaker in the series, featured "The Geographic Foundations of the Far East."

Succeeding lectures, to be held each Thursday through June 6, will deal with the historical background, culture, economic problems and foreign rights of the Far East, the military campaigns in China and the problems involving Manchuria, Mongolia and Chinese Turkestan.

Intramural Debates Close Friday

• AS A RESULT of debates last Friday night four fraternities and four sororities remain in the competition for the Delta Sigma Rho Debate Cups, offered for the winning fraternity and sorority, as the semi-finals loom. The teams are to meet in Gov.-101 at 8:10 p.m. Friday, May 3, from which place they will be sent to individual rooms.

Herb Lindsay and Leonard Peterson of Acacia turned in a sensational upset in eliminating Neal Tomey and John Rothrock, who last year won the cup for Tau Kappa Epsilon. Other fraternity matches saw Phi Sigma Kappa oust Tau Sigma Rho; Sigma Alpha Epsilon defeat Sigma Nu; and Kappa Sigma down Kappa Alpha.

Alpha Delta Pi moved into the semi-finals without a struggle when Chi Omega defaulted. Delta Zeta, Kappa Delta and Phi Mu won their way into the round of four by virtue of decisions over Colonial Campus Club, Pi Beta Phi and Kappa Kappa Gamma respectively.

Judges of the debates were Charles L. Coltman, Arthur R. Murphy, Talma L. Smith, Mrs. DeWitt Bennett, Charles P. Swindler, Professor John Tillema and Dix Price.

The draw for the semi-finals pits Sigma Alpha Epsilon, affirmative against Acacia, negative; and Phi Kappa Sigma, negative; in the fraternity contests.

On the distiff side Kappa Delta and Phi Mu will uphold the affirmative, against Alpha Delta Phi and Delta Zeta, respectively, of the question which is "Resolved, That the Federal Government Should Own and Operate the Railroads."

Judges for the semi-finals include Miss Phoebe Jane Beall, William R. Ogg, Albert W. Atwood and Randolph C. Shaw, all members of Delta Sigma Rho.

Gables Get Movie Chance For One Day

• A HURRY-UP CALL for four tall handsome young men to be in a technicolor advertising movie came to the employment office the other day. An N. Y. A. sleuth searched the Student Club, the University yard and even the chemistry lab. As a result some George Washington Gables were launched upon a one-day movie career.

This is one of the more spectacular jobs which come to the employment office. Also, for seniors and juniors who want summer work, there are now open jobs marketing for Stanley Home Products Inc., manufacturers of household chemicals and other products, through the club and hostess plans. Mr. J. C. Altrock, Regional Sales Manager, will be on the first floor of Columbian House this evening at 5 p.m. to speak to those interested and to arrange for personal interviews. There will be no house canvassing. The earnings will be $35 to $50 a week, the company promises.

Real Silk Hosiery Company wants hosiery salesmen.

For further information, and for openings which occur from time to time, students should see the employment office, second floor Columbian House.

Glee Clubs Give Concert And Dance

Combined Groups Will Sing May 10 At Willard Hotel

• THE ANNUAL GLEE CLUB Concert and Dance of the combined Men's and Women's Glee Club will be held on Friday, May 10, in the Grand Ballroom of the Willard Hotel.

The combined group of about 100 voices will open the concert after which the Men's Glee Club of about 40 voices and the Women's Glee Club of about 60 voices will each in turn present their selections. A group of selections by the combined group will complete the program. Following the concert there will be a formal dance to the music of Leon Brusiloff and his Concert Masters.

Tickets are on sale by the members of the glee clubs and the Alumni Office in Columbian House for $1.00. There are now only six boxes remaining which sell for $10.00 and seat six people. Boxes are sold through the Alumni Office. Co-op books are also good for admission to the concert and dance, the last major dance before examinations. Cooperating with the glee clubs on ticket sales is also the committee appointed by the Student Council consisting of Bill Pollard, Dave Rubenstein, Betty Wilkinson, Marjorie Wilkins, and John O'Donnell.

Recent activities of the Glee Clubs have been recitals at the Law School Concert and Dance and the Newman Club Convention by the men's group and at the Pan-American Union by the combined groups. One admirer of the Glee Clubs, which rank with the first six college glee clubs of the country, recently sent a block of tickets for a National Symphony Orchestra Concert to express his appreciation.

Prominent alumni and officcials of the University who will act as patrons of the Glee Club Concert are: The President and Mrs. Cloyd Heck Marvin, The President of the Board of Trustees and Mrs. Robert V. Fleming, Dr. Harry C. Davis, Secretary of the Board, and his sister Miss Mollie E. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. John St. Clair Brookes, Jr., Senator and Mrs. Bennett Champ Clark, Colonial and Mrs. U. S. Grant, III, Mr. J. Edgar Hoover, Mr. Theodore W. Noyes, Dr. and Mrs. Luther H. Reichelderfer, Mrs. Henry A. Strong, Justice Alfred A. Wheat, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd B. Wilson, Dr. Malcolm G. Gibbs, Dr. and Mrs. David L. Maxwell, Mr. and Mrs. Lester A. Smith, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Smith.

Debate Group Elects Four To Membership

• ELSIE CARPER, Betty Green, Lucy Majure, and Mike McKool have been chosen for initiation into Delta Sigma Rho, national honorary forensic society. The initiation luncheon, to which Delta Sigma Rho alumni from George Washington and other chapters have been invited, will be held at the Faculty Club Friday at 1:00 p.m. The University's chapter of Delta Sigma Rho, founded in 1908, is now presided over by Charles E. Corker with Phoebe Jane Beall as secretary, and Dr. H. F. Harding, associate professor of Public Speaking, as sponsor.

Miss Carper, Miss Majure, and Miss Green are all members of the Women's Debate Team. In addition, Miss Carper is the originator and supervisor of the Speakers' Bureau; Miss Green was President of the Model Senate of 1939 and chairman of one of the committees of the Senate's 1940 meeting. McKool is a member of the Men's Varsity Debate Squad, and as such has represented the University in debates with Princeton University, Mt. St. Mary's College, and the University of North Carolina. Also, he was the winner

Pre-Legal Society Is Organized

Committee Submits Tentative Constitution For Organization

• ENLIGHTENMENT and welfare of pre-legal students in regard to their academic and professional futures will be the keynote of a new extra-curricula organization soon to be established at the University.

To be called "The Pre-legal Society of the George Washington University" active planning was begun Tuesday night at an informal meeting of pre-legal students, numbering thihrty, with Wayne Kniffin, Law School as president officer, and Dean Van Vleck of the Law School and Professor McIntire, Law Review faculty editor, acting in advisory capacity.

Dean Van Vleck spoke on the problems of selecting a law school and meeting the bar exams. He explained carefully what is meant by an approved law school and added that law colleges of twenty-three states do not receive credit for their degrees at state bar associations. A pre-legal organization should take particular concern in supplying its members with information as to approved and unapproved institutions, he said. Professor McIntire explained the function of the University's Law Review and the opportunities it gave law students on the editorial staff.

A constitutional committee was appointed, and the next meeting was set for May 7 to consider the work of the committee and begin the function of the society.

A tentative constitution has already been submitted to Dean Van Vleck by the committee, roughly outlying the program and purposes of the club, and providing for a steering committee to head it. The committee will consist of one member appointed from each undergraduate college by his dean and one from each class of the Law School. It will be under the guidance of Dean Van Vleck.

The society will carry on both a social program and a forum to deal with problems of law students. It will afford closer acquaintance among pre-legal students and give them a preview of what is in store for them in law college and the professional world.

Iota Sigma Pi Holds Founders' Day Banquet

• THE POLONIUM chapter of Iota Sigma Pi will hold its annual Founders' Day Banquet on Saturday evening, May 4, at the Smorgasbord. Miss Helen Dyer of the Medical School will be the speaker. All members and alumni have been invited to attend.

Activity Fund Hearing Called

• THE FINANCE COMMITTEE of the Student Council will meet with the executive boards of the major activities of the campus tomorrow and Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Student Council Office. The purpose of the meeting will be to determine budget appropriations for next year.

The Finance Committee will meet with The Hatchet, the Band and Cue and Curtain tomorrow night and on Thursday will discuss budget appropriations with the other activities on the campus.

The Finance Committee of the Student Council is composed of the Comptroller and President of this year's and next year's councils.

Campus News In Brief

Sigma Pi Sigma

• DR. LYMAN J. BRIGGS, Director of the Bureau of Standards, became an honorary member of the University chapter of Sigma Pi Sigma, honorary physics fraternity, Friday night.

Alpha Chi Sigma

Chapel Hears Bowman

• THE REV. WARREN DANIEL BOWMAN, pastor of the Washington City Church of the Brethern, will speak at chapel at 12:10 p.m. Friday in Columbian House on the topic "Your Spiritual Quotient."

Dr. Bowman, who was formerly a college professor, attended Bridgewater (Va.) College and the University of Chicago. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Pi Kappa Delta and Pi Gamma Mu and formerly served in the Medical Department of the United States Army. He is also the author of "Home Builders of Tomorrow."

Dr. Albert Joseph McCartney of the Covenant-First Presbyterian Church, spoke last week on Paul's faith and his reassuring attitude in times of crisis and urged that Chritians adopt the same outlook on life.

Baptist Student Union

• THE REGULAR WEEKLY meeting of the Baptist Student Union will be held Wednesday evening at 7 in Columbian House, second floor.

The monthly District and Maryland meeting was held in Baltimore on Saturday.

Haley Scurlock, president of the Baptist Student Union, who was chosen associate pastor of the Annual National Youth Week at the Calvary Baptist Church, gave the sermon Sunday evening.

Christian Science

• THE BI-MONTHLY meeting of the Christian Science Organization will be held at 8:10 p.m. Thursday on the second floor of Columbian House.

Newman Club

• THE NEWMAN CLUB will meet in D-104 Thursday evening at 8. Announcement will be made of the Newmanites to receive honor key awards for the service to the club during the year.

Plans will be made for the last social event of the year and also for the club's participation in the Arlington Memorial Field Mass.

Movies, including a Mickey Mouse short, will be shown by Bob O'Leary.

O. D. K. Elects Officers

• OMICRON DELTA KAPPA elected officers at its meeting last Tuesday. The new leaders are: President, Paul Yost; Vice President, John Kendrick; and Secretary-Treasurer, Ward McCabe.

There will be no meeting of O. D. K. this week.

Camera Club

• AT AN ORGANIZATION meeting last week, Dick Ballard was elected president of the University Camera Club. Bud Carlson was chosen vice president and Ward McCabe, secretary-treasurer.

The club is planning a salon of student photography beginning May 9, entries for which close May 8. An entry fee of ten cents per print will be divided among the three winning entries, half to the winner, one third to second, and one sixth to third.

Entries should be mounted at least 8 by 10 and the photograph proper should be at least 3 by 5. Entries may be given to Dick Ballard, Sigma Chi house, or to Ward McCabe in the Student Club May 1 or May 8.

Public Affairs Discussion

• PAN POLITIKON, newly organized public affairs forum discussion club, will discuss the question of "American Protection of the Dutch East Indies," in D-104. All students are invited.

Pi Delta Epsilon Will Nominate Officers

• PI DELTA EPSILON, honorary journalism fraternity, will hold a meeting Thursday evening in the Zeta Tau Alpha Rooms, in Sorority Hall, at 6:45. Initiation of Miss Nancy Whittemore and Allen Dewey will be held. Refreshments will be served immediately afterwards.

An important business meeting will follow and nominations for election of officers for next year will be made.

Men's Glee Club Will Sing at Maryland U.

• THE MEN'S GLEE CLUB will participate in a joint concert with the Maryland Glee Club tomorrow evening at the Maryland University Agricultural Auditorium, Dr. Robert Harmon, Director announced Sunday. Admission is free and open to all University students and will start at 8:30 p.m.

Challenge To Day Students

• A FEW MONTHS AGO, The Hatchet made an editorial observation, much in the nature of a prophecy, to the effect that the day students would be in the saddle of campus activities at the end of this year, a transitional period in activities.

That prediction, if we might be permitted to call it one, seems in a large degree to have been borne out by subsequent events. The evident trend toward day-student control of activities apparently culminated in the recent Student Council elections, in which all except one of the victorious candidates were day students.

In practically all of the University activities, dominated in former years by a small group of night students, full-time people have this year taken a leading role. Three of the four members of the Board of Editors of The Hatchet this year have been full-time students, and the new plan of organization, with stringent hours requirements, encourages those taking full schedules. The president of the Student Congress and many of its leading members are day students. Cue and Curtain has been led by day students. The religious clubs have always had large numbers of full-time students, and also many other smaller organizations. The W. S. G. A., while it has not enjoyed spectacular success, is gradually exerting influence for increasing the number of women in activities and spreading offices among many.

Indicative also of the new importance of the full-time student in the University is the fact that all six of those recently elected to Phi Beta Kappa are day students. It is noteworthy, too, in this connection, that they have all held some kind of scholarship, that they have all been here less than three years and have 75 hours, that they have all participated moderately in extra-curricular undertakings.

May the day students make the best of the challenge before them.

American Youth—1940

• THE LATEST ISSUE of the "March of Time" monthly film release deals with the subject which is basic to the whole American future, from some viewpoints—American youth, 1940.

It is American youth, today, that will tomorrow be charged with responsibility for running the nation. The statement is familiar to the point of being trite, but still inescapably true. And it is to the youth of any country, as the film points out in its introduction, to which the powers of state turn for material to carry on the mass endeavor peculiar to civilized mankind—war.

American youth, 1940, as a result has a considerable interest in affairs at home and abroad today. And of the 21 million young men and women today, 1,200,000 are enrolled in 1,600 United States colleges and universities to form the collegiate unit of our civilization.

Significant is it, according to the March of Time, that this group no longer regard their school as a luxury, but as necessary equipment in the highly competitive business of finding a job. Most of them now earn all or part of their expenses, and the college employment bureau is assuming a more and more important role in the educational system as a clearing house for part-time jobs both on and off the campus.

Other interesting statistics are that 50 per cent of college men and 60 per cent of college girls look forward to marriage within two years after graduation, and with 80 per cent of all United States schools and colleges now co-educational, most college boys and girls who marry within the next five years will have met their wives or husbands on the campus.

To all those who have seen it, this film must have brought a thrill of pride at some of the achievements and prospects of American youth. But it also has its foreboding of problems, very grave and pressing ones, that remain to be solved. The college group has much of the initial advantage; future years alone will tell whether it has the ambition and the courage to utilize it.

As may have been noted by some as an interesting coincidence, when "America's Youth, 1940" appeared at a first-run theater downtown, it was on the same bill as the picture starring one of the two youngsters who today rank with any competitors in the motion picture industry—Deanna Durbin and Mickey Rooney. Both have, by superb accomplishments in their field, brought excellent entertainment and relaxation to millions in this country; both have, indirectly, contributed to the respect in which young America is held today.

It is difficult to indicate a specific moral from the film or from the accomplishments of the two gifted stars mentioned; yet we feel it proper to call attention to them as part of the pattern of which we of the college world have the privilege of forming a significant portion.

Isolationism

• RESULTS OF A POLL on the question of American participation in the present European war taken last week in the Current History class indicate an overwhelming inclination of the student to keep his nose in his own business, as far as international affairs are concerned.

Out of a total of 61 participants, 44 were in favor of no participation at all, except, of course, in case of invasion of this country; 17 were in favor of help in some form to the Allies. Of the latter group only 6 favored immediate assistance, the rest advocated doing so only in case the Allied cause became desperate.

Observers may be interested in comparing this with isolationist sentiment in 1915-16, and in drawing whatever conclusions seem warranted.

• Letters To The Editors •

Premedica

To the Ediors:

Premedica needs a transfusion! A number of students who have been active this past year are going on to medical school, leaving the burden of the work on the few remaining active students.

Premedica has arranged eight hospital trips, five forums and trips to the Army Medical Museum and St. Elizabeth's Hospital. Through the efforts of a relatively small group of premeds all premeds have been given a chance to obtain a preview of their future work. Also they have been given an opportunity to know one another better and to form associations which will continue in medical school and in the profession. But there must be students who are willing to take upon themselves the work of arranging lectures and trips, and of seeing that the program is fully publicized; students who will continue to gain and retain the full cooperation and approval of the premedical faculty, the Medical School faculty, the local hospital staffs, and prominent members of the medical profession.

There is a great danger that unless additional students support and take an active part in premedica, the whole undertaking will fail. Therefore, it is important that premeds who have an interest beyond their classrooms in their chosen profession, attend the business meeting after the forum Friday, April 26, at 8 p.m. in C-202. A new chairman and secretary will be elected and ground work will be laid for next year.

Gordon M. Smith,
Chairman, Premedica.

Administrative Law

To the Editors:

I should like to call attention to a recent public address by an alumnus of the University (LL.B., 1911) on the subject of Administrative Law. This speech by Mr. John Foster Dulles, chairman of the Committee on Administrative Law of the Bar Association of the city of New York, was delivered at Cambridge, Massachusetts, January 14, 1939, under the joint auspices of the Bar Association of the city of Boston and the Harvard Law School.

Especially because George Washington University is a leader in the field of administrative law, it is believed that many of our students may be interested in reading this speech which is available in the Appendix to the Congressional Record for March 5, 1940 (p. 3737), as an extension of the remarks of Honorable Emanuel Celler, Representative in Congress of the Tenth New York District.

Some excerpts from this speech seem especially appropriate for reflection and discussion by the student body at this time when the Logan-Walter Bill (Senate 915 and House of Representatives 6324) to hamstring administrative agencies is pending before Congress:

"Actually the administrative process is the oldest thing that there is in the way of government . . . The system of checks and balances is what is really new, and it has never become deeply rooted except in the Anglo-Saxon countries.

"During recent years our world has changed. Society has become vastly more complex. It is only experts who can trace cause into effect. Our economy is no longer an expanding one. Social and economical problems have become acute and press for solution. The duties and responsibilities of government have enormously increased. Under such conditions government naturally strives to become more efficient and this is expected of it. One expression of this urge for efficiency is the administrative agency.

"Lawyers have to a very considerable extent been spoiled. They have had in which to operate a field set apart by rules of its own and within which a special form of exercise and enjoyment was obtainable . . . Lawyers at least to the extent that they are vocal, seem preponderately to be antagnostic to administrative commissions, at least those of the flexible type . . . Nor do we need to seek to hamstring such tribunals by subordinating their action in all respects to court review on the law and the facts. This is the lawyer's pet formula for rendering impotent administrative tribunals.

"We must use the court sparingly, and only in clearly justifiable cases, to nullify results sought by the legislative and executive branches of the government in pursuance of the popular will. Otherwise we will lose our courts . . .

"For in every age and in every country it is the spirit of the people rather than the legal form in which its institutions are cast which essentially determines whether or not freedom will prevail.

"It is the task of the democracies to find ways of increasing their efficiency without involving any sacrifice of the fundamental rights of the individual . . .

"Wherever it is felt that excessive and unnecessary power has been conferred, the Congress can be asked frankly to curtail that power. Such procedure is certainly more worthy and more apt to be effective than blanket efforts, by measures of indirection, to cripple the entire administrative process."

Sincerely yours,
Wm. Howard Gammon.

Flicker Tape

By FLORA GILL

• A HYBRID consisting of Sadie Thompson and the Ancient Mariner is roaming the screen at Loew's Palace this week, and the result, entitled "Strange Cargo," is one of the inevitable dilemmas such mergers produce.

Joan Crawford and Clark Gable are the antagonists (sic). But the supporting cast comes as near as any supporting cast could to redeeming the havoc they wreak. Ian Hunter, bless his large heart, Eduardo Cianelli, Peter Lorre and new villain Albert Dekker furnish acting talent which nicely offsets the fact that Crawford and Gable do an unpleasant cat and dog act throughout most of the film. Before the pix is over, indeed, you feel very much like hurling rocks in Mr. Gable's sissy direction.

Gable has been seen before as a tough guy, but never more relentlessly than here. As a restless member of a French penal colony he is shown up as a small-hearted thief out for himself who is apparently lacking in all human virtues until at the very last minute, for no apparent reason, he wakes right up to it all.

Crawford not only has her old climate back from "Rain," but approximately the same role. She is a jungle-walker, a night-club not-too-good, who is finally commanded to quit the colony.

She falls into the strange cargo of a party escaping from the prison. As soon as the troup wades through the jungle and boards ship the Ancient Mariner aspect enters. Mr. Coleridge might not approve the love interest added, but he wouldn't be able to help noticing that the boys must have had his little ditty in mind. They have been the big becalming scene.

The only thing missing, as a matter of fact, is the albatross. But Mr. Ian Hunter, of all people, takes the load from around the voyagers' necks. He is a benign member of the party who has become a member of the penal colony by circumstances suspicious enough to enable you to realize that he is one of the supernatural beings who has been haunting Broadway and Hollywood the past couple of years.

He is a sort of emissary from above, a title which Director Borzage lets you realize by planting his face near the strongest light (often merely an oil lamp) most of the time. He is set upon making his fellow convicts and the jungle flapper see the light, too. And he makes little speeches which only an Ian Hunter can get away with.

And one by one, the albatrosses drop from around their necks . . .

If you enjoy watching a hatful of sinister poeple tracking through several sets of sinister scenery, you'll have a whale of a time watching "Strange Cargo." Else, you won't.

There's a fisherman at the end, though, whose soulful face made us weep. You will love this fisherman

Scholarship Groups Honor Seven Frosh

• SEVEN FRESHMEN were initiated into the freshmen honor societies, Alpha Lambda Delta and Phi Eta Sigma, in ceremonies conducted in Columbian House Saturday evening and followed by a joint banquet at the Faculty Club.

Those who became members of Alpha Lambda Delta for having an average above 3.5 on their first 15 hours of work are: Jessalyn Charles, Bertha Dekelbaum, Helen Duckson, and Caro Parkinson. Melvin Bers, Harold Bobys, and Harvey Goldberg, with similar qualifications, joined Phi Eta Sigma.

Honor guests at the banquet, each of whom spoke briefly, were Mrs. Vinnie G. Barrows, Dean Henry Grattan Doyle, Dr. Wood Gray, Dean William C. Johnstone, President Cloyd H. Marvin, and Professor Emeritus William A. Wilbur.

Lillian Friedman was presented with Alpha Lambda Delta's prize of Rockwell Kent's book of art masterpieces, given to the senior member of the organization who has the best complete scholastic record. Marilyn Williams, president of Alpha Lambda Delta, gave the award.

New Officers were elected by Phi Eta Sigma as follows: Ira Brown, president; Bob Morrison, vice president; Paul McClenon, secretary treasurer; and Harold Bobys, historian.

In addition to rewarding outstanding student speakers, Delta Sigma Rho has organized the National Student Congress, which held its first meeting here in Washington in March, 1939, to discuss "The Neutrality Policy of the U. S."

The Congress is made up of delegates from the 70 Delta Sigma Rho chapters and will hold its next session in 1940 somewhere in the middle west.

Sociology "Project Plan" Fits Students For Future Work

By ARMINDA LEWIS

• THE SOCIOLOGY DEPARTMENT has done away with term papers—temporarily, at least! But it's not so "Seventh Heavenish" as it sounds, for in place of writing papers the sociology undergraduates are working hard on various projects.

While history and economics majors are spending the best part of their lives buried in the Library of Congress searching through the files for the clue to one atom of information about the Economic Policy of the Cherokee Indians in 1825, or reading the editorial pages of the New York Times and the New Orleans Times-Picayune for October 8, 1917, the sociology students are getting first-hand knowledge of the social problems existing today.

Everything from giving swimming lessons to making a new type of cold cream is being done by the G. W. would-be sociologists.

Social Work or Dissertation

This semester, for the first time, they were given the choice of doing 36 hours of supervised work in conjunction with the social agencies of the city, or writing dissertations. Their choice need not be stated!

Dr. C. D. Wells, head of the Sociology Department, emphasized, however, that the work his students are doing is not primarily for the purpose of fitting them for future work along the same lines but to acquaint them with the social problems confronting American civilization today. He described the work as "avocational rather than vocational."

Out at the Self-Help Exchange, George Hoover, while working in the chemical shop, worked out a new type of face cream which will be made available to the Self-Help families. So, thanks to him, the girls in those families can "help themselves" to be more beautiful.

Workers at Self-Help

About 20 other students are working at the Exchange, doing typing, interviewing, working out recreational programs, and helping with music and sewing projects.

Whereas most students have a hard time keeping up with their own reading, two of the sociology enthusiasts have been reading to blind students—at Georgetown and Catholic Universities, incidentally.

Six boys spent their 36 hours' work (?) swimming and teaching other boys to swim in the Y.M.C.A. "Learn to Swim" campaign.

Several others are working at the Southeast Settlement House, a colored institution, teaching boxing among other things. They are also taking care of publicity and helping with the health problems of the community.

Other Projects

Playground work, conducting story hours, and work at the Toy-Lending Library, the Jewish Community center, the Georgetown Boys' Club, the Washington Youths' Council, the Women's Bureau, and the Washington Federation of Churches are among the projects undertaken this semester.

This is the first time the project plan has been tried in the Sociology Department, but it seems to be proving quite satisfactory. They are hard work—those projects—but to history undergraduates, it sounds much more interesting than a string of op. cit.s and ibid.s and term paper footnotes in general.

Avukah Hears Aryeh Korin On Palestine

• ARYEH KORIN, winner of the Palestine Fellowship of Avukah, National Student Zionist Federation, will speak tonight at the regular meeting of the University Chapter of Avukah in the Hall of Government, Room 101, at 8:30 p.m.

Korin, a recent graduate of Temple University in Philadelphia, has just returned from a six months' tour of Palestine with another fellowship winner, Seymour Melman. The Fellowship, which is awarded each year to prominent members of the organization, is given to facilitate first-hand study of conditions in the Holy Land. Korin and Melman are at present making an extensive lecture tour and are presenting hitherto unpublished information.

The two Fellows made copious notes and collected numerous documents regarding the growing movement for the improvement of general Arab-Jewish relations, the progress of industrial development, and the establishment and activities of the cooperative agricultural settlements. All their information is documented and was collected by the fellowship winners.

The work of collecting data was made increasingly difficult by the censorship of newspapers and government supervision of activities in the country. On preparing to return to America several weeks ago, Korin and Melman were subjected to a rigorous examination by government officials. Among their personal papers that were confiscated were some pictures of demonstrations protesting the restriction of land sales and two logs in which were recorded all their daily activities.

Orchesis Revises Laws

Administrative Unit Of Four Managers Will Head Group

• ORCHESIS, University dance group, will start the next year term of production under new changes made in its constitutional set-up. It is felt that the revisions will make for a more efficient organization which will lead this campus activity group to a level of higher achihevement and greater success.

Instead of a president, vice president, secretary and treasurer, the organization will be headed by an administrative unit made up of a business manager, publicity manager, costume manager and talent scout. Under the constitution applications for these positions are made to either Miss Elizabeth Burtner, care of Physical Eduecation Office, Building H; Lucie Petta, present president; or Jerry Rosey, present vice president.

Under the Women's Student Government Association each position of the administrative unit earns three points.

The duties of each are stated as follows;

Business manager—shall be responsible for and take charge of financial matters, collect and keep records of all dues, submit a yearly report at the second business meeting which is at the end of the season, pay all bills, negotiate for Student Council appropriations, order, distribute and sell tickets.

Publicity Manager—shall be responsible for publicizing productions of Orchesis; Hatchet stories, photographs, Caleridar announcements; local newspapers through head of G. W. U. Press Bureau; magazine articles; photographs, posters for convention exhibits, bulletin boards on campus, etc.; distribution of complimentary tickets; patron lists.

Costume Manager—shall take entire charge of costuming; negotiate with Art Department and Home Economics Department for the design and execution of costumes for production; buying of materials; take measurements; distribution and collection of costumes; cleaning and storing of costumes.

Colm Says Spending Is Here To Stay

• GOVERNMENT SPENDING is not a temporary device but a permanent feature of our maturing economy, Gerhard Colm asserted before the Conference on Economic Policy Friday night in the Hall of Government.

Due to the illness of the scheduled speaker, Marriner Eccles, chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, Gerhard Colm, of the New School for Social Research and the Department of Commerce, was the principal speaker. Mr. Colm read a paper on fiscal and non-fiscal measues necessary to remove the discrepancy between savings and investments that stands in the way of economic recovery.

The panel consisted of Louis Shere of the Treasury Department and Clarence Heer of the National Resources Planning Board. The scheduled chairman, Mr. Richard Vincent Gilbert, was also ill and Professor Burns acted as chairman.

The next session of the conference will be held on Wednesday, May 15, at 8 p.m. in Government 1. John Henry Williams of Harvard will discuss "Monetary and Fiscal Aspects of Recovery" and Richard Vincent Gilbert of the Department of Commerce "Investment Outlets and Full Employment." Theodore John Kreps of Stanford and Don Dougan Humphrey of the University will make up the panel. The chairman will be Woodlief Thomas of the Federal Reserve.

Engineering Slants

• THE ANNUAL Engineers' Banquet, scheduled for May 18, takes on an added significance this year, in the light of the co-sponsorship of the Engineers' Council and the Engineering Alumni Association. The banquet, which ranks with the Engineers' Ball as an "event" in the School, has always appealed to both students and alumni, but not to the extent that is expected this year.

Dr. Harrison E. Howe, editor of "Industrial and Engineering Chemistry," will be the principal speaker—something to be looked forward to, according to those who know him, or have heard of him. Dr. Howe also holds the position of Professorial Lecturer on Scientific Literature, in the University.

One of the outstanding features of the banquet is the annual presentation of awards. Expectantly awaited will be the Sigma Tau and Theta Tau awards, and the Engineers' Council keys. Sigma Tau annually gives a medal to the engineer who has completed his freshman year with the highest point index. The Theta Tau award is a plaque awarded to an outstanding senior in activities, selected by the faculty.

Prof. Norman B. Ames will be toastmaster. Guests of honor will be President Marvin; Dean Felker; Watson Davis, president of the Engineering Alumni; Bert Randall, president of the Engineers' Council; Lyman J. Briggs, head of the Bureau of Standards; Thomas H. Urdahl; A. B. McDaniel; F. G. Cottrell; and the president of the local sections of the ASME, ASCE and AIEE.

The banquet will be at the Lee House, 15th and L Sts., N.W., at 6 p.m., Sat., May 18. Price $1.75. Informal except for those at the speakers' table. Duncan C. Thomson will furnish entertainment.

• FOUR OF THE FIVE organizations in the Engineering school will elect officers for next year, tomorrow evening. Theta Tau meets at 7 p.m.; the three societies at 8 p.m.—AIME in Gov.-201, ASCE in D-105, and ASME in D-104.

• • •

• WHEN THE BLUEPRINTS and photographs of the Gravely Point Airport were laid out on the balcony all day Friday, for the C. E. conclave, the engineers were complimented in that no one was there to keep an eye on them. When at the end of the day, one of the most important photographs was missing, Harry Otis Wright, president of the student branch of the ASCE, was particularly disturbed because he will be held personally responsible. The picture was undoubtedly picked up thoughtlessly. If anyone has any information about the photo, please see Wright, the Dean's Office, Warren Crump, or Bert Randall.

Buff Trims Generals; McGinnis Stars

Covering The Colonials

By AL "LUCKY" LUCYK

● AFTER A SIX-WEEKS vacation we return to this page, but contrary to belief we're stumped as to where we should begin.

Anyway, Joe Judge, Georgetown baseball coach, came to bat for us to save the day. Since he came to the Hilltop back in 1936, Joe has been turning out winning teams for the Hoyas. In fact, his record compares favorably with any college coach's record in the country.

Joe serves as an inspiration to the young baseballers and is a great hand at developing aspirants. In his major league days, Judge developed such stars as Joe Kuhel, of the Chicago White Sox, and Joe Cronin, manager and shortstop of the Boston Red Sox.

Former Senator First Baseman

In his 21 years of major league baseball beginning in 1917, Judge spent the first 17 as first baseman for the local Senators. It was in these years that he earned the reputation of being an outstanding first baseman and one of the greatest fielders in that position in baseball history.

Among his other accomplishments are an lifetime batting average of .304 and a nine-year reign as the league leading fielder at first base. He also took part in the world series of 1924 and 1925. Joe was the outstanding hitter of the latter series which Washington won, with an average of .385.

Saved Johnson's No-Hitter

Joe's thrill of a lifetime came in 1920 when "Big Train" Walter Johnson was on his way to pitching his career's only no-hit, no-run game. It was in the ninth inning with two out when Harry Hopper of the Boston Red Sox hit a sizzling line drive that hit Judge in the chest and sprawled him on the ground. Prostrated, he grabbed the ball and threw to Johnson for the out, thus saving a place for Walter in the mythical Hall of Fame.

Another of Joe's memorable events came in 1928. Clark Griffith bought George Sisler, one time great first-sacker, from the St. Louis Browns. Then it looked as if Joe would ride the bench for that season. But Judge fooled them all by giving all he had and it was Sisler who sat on the bench while Joe guarded the initial bag.

His Hoya nine meets the Colonials again later in the season. In the first game between the two teams last week Georgetown shut out the Colonials 5-0. In addition to his activities as Hoya coach Judge has opened up a restaurant in the city.

Colonial Nine Shut Out By Georgetown 5-0

By BILL UMSTEAD

● BEHIND THE FIVE-HIT pitching of Frank McGinnis the Colonials managed to salvage one victory out of their baseball activities last week. McGinnis handcuffed the Washington and Lee Generals last Monday at Lexington, Va., to give the Buff nine a 7-3 win.

Virginia Military Institute took the Colonials into camp next day and handed them a 6-3 licking. At Hilltop field Friday Georgetown's Hoyas shut out the Buffmen 5-0.

Bob Nowaskey's pinch double in the eighth inning with the bases loaded broke a 3-3 tie and gave the Buff nine its win over the Generals. McGinnis worked seven innings on the mound and held the Generals to five measly bingles. Southpaw Toby Bright relieved him on the hill in the eighth and hurled two hitless frames. Bobby Gilham, Wes Taylor and Lee Lusby paced the Buff nine at the plate with two hits apiece.

Four runs went across the plate for the Colonials in the eighth inning to clinch the win after the Generals had gotten off to a 2-0 lead at the first of the game.

Redinger Walks Five

Against the Keydets Jack Redinger, who started for the Buffmen, hit a wild streak and walked five men. Bright again finished the game on the slab for the Colonials. A three-run rally in the third inning won the game for V. M. I., although the Colonials tallied twice in the same frame. The Buff nine collected eight hits in the fray, but were topped by the Keydets who made nine bingles.

It was a case of too much pitching that caused the Colonials' downfall in the Georgetown tilt. Bill Wixted, Hoya right-hander, held the Buffmen helpless with four scattered hits while he pounded Toby Bright out of the box with a ten-hit attack. Bright lasted only two innings against the Hilltoppers and went out of the box with a two-run uprising in the second frame. Frank McGinnis, who relieved Bright on the slab, limited the Hoyas to six hits the rest of the game.

Gray Tops Colonials

Harry Gray made half of the Buff's total hits with two bingles. Wixted and Mahoney topped the Hoyas with two blows apiece.

McGinnis' pitching in two of the three games was the highlight of the week for Coach Morris' nine. After stopping the Generals, he turned in a good relief job against the Hoyas. George Garber led the Colonials at the plate during the week with four hits, three of them coming in the V. M. I. game.

Greek Nines Scramble for League Leads

By TOM McCALL

● PHI SIGMA KAPPA defending champions, and Tau Sigma Rho took the leads in both Interfraternity baseball leagues after a heavy weekend. Most of the Greek nines played two games, one Saturday afternoon and another Sunday morning.

The Phi Sigs expect little opposition from victory-less Delta Tau Delta team next week, and the entire League A schedule pits the leading three nines against the bottom ones. However, in League B fireworks are expected as two undefeated teams, Tau Sigma Rho and Kappa Alpha tangle for the lead in that loop. Sigma Chi, also undefeated, faces S. P. E. in the only other game that has any bearing on the top standings.

Acacia Held Hitless

In League A, the Phi Sigs shut out T. K. E. 7-0 Saturday and swamped Acacia 24-1 Sunday. Two Phi Sig pitchers held the Acacians hitless in the five-inning game. The Tekes came back on Sunday to win over Sigma Nu 9-1, while Pat Henry turned in a good mound performance to shut out the Delts 4-0 on Saturday for Sigma Nu's first victory. The Delts forfeited to Kappa Sigma.

Eddie Amendola and Vic Sampson pitched the Tau Sigs to a 14-4 decision over S. P. E. Sunday as a parade of Sig Ep pitchers vainly tried to stem the Tau Sig attack. Kappa Alpha won two games, winning over the Sig Eps 15-8, and besting S. A. E., 6-3. Sigma Chi, behind Hutch Holmes, turned back Theta Delta Chi, 7-2.

Many Home Runs Made

Home runs of the week-end record were hit by Randall, Davis and Schulte, of Phi Sig; Holmes, of Sigma Chi; Bill Wetmore, of S. P. E.; and Billy Richardson, of Tau Sigma Rho. Don Brattain, Phi Sig catcher, suffered a fractured finger in Saturday's game.

Colonials Face Terps At College Park

● TOUGH GAMES with Wilson Teachers, Washington and Lee, and Maryland await the Colonials on the diamond this week. Coach Ed Morris' Buff nine met the Teachers at the East Ellipse yesterday, faces the Generals at the Ellipse Friday afternoon, and plays the Terps at College Park next Monday.

The game with Maryland will be the hardest tilt for the Colonials and the Terps will enter the game favored to win. The game was scheduled for April 17, but rain caused the postponement. In their last start the Old Liners were shut out by North Carolina 2-0, but the Maryland nine still boasts a good season record against tough opposition.

Both on the mound and at the plate the Terps present power. This pitching staff is composed of Lefty Springer, Pershing Mondorff, Dick Hunt and Lefty Vannais. Hugh Keller, hard-hitting outfielder, leads the Terps at the plate with an average near the .500 mark. Other leading hitters on the term are Adam Bengoechea, infielder; and Merle Duvall, sophomore first baseman. Springer will probably face the Colonials on the mound for the Maryland nine. Jack Redinger or Frank McGinnis will toe the slab for Coach Morris in an attempt to stop the high-riding Terps.

Maryland's starting lineup is: Bengoechea, 3b; McDonald, 2b; Dwyer, rf; Keller, lf; Duvall, 1b; Burns, c; Culver, cf; Wharton, ss; Springer p.

A return game with the Washington and Lee nine should provide the Colonials with another win. At Lexington, Va., last week the Buffman defeated the Generals 7-3 behind Frank McGinnis' five-hit pitching. McGinnis or Redinger will probably start against the Generals in the return tilt. Pres Brown, W. & L. football star, who hurled last week, may get chance to redeem himself by stopping the Colonials.

The starting lineup for the Generals will probably be: Gary, 3b; Thompson, ss; Keim, rf; Mangen, c; Gregerson, lf; Brown, p.; Gaugher, cf; Gangler, 1b; Richardson, 2b.

Earlier in the year the Buffmen walloped Wilson Teachers, 13-2, and the return game yesterday shouldn't have been much of a battle for Coach Morris' nine.—UMSTEAD.

Golfers Lose To Maryland, 5.5-3.5

● MARYLAND GOLFERS defeated a combined Colonial varsity-freshman team, 5½-3½, last Tuesday afternoon at Beaver Dam Country Club. Carl Betsch, of the University team, upset George DeWitt, leading Terp golfer, one up.

Saturday afternoon, Coach Bill Myers, will take his mixed team to Annapolis to play Navy at Sherwood Forest.

The results of the match with Maryland are as follows:

Betsch (G. W.) defeated DeWitt, 1 up; Rea (Md.) and Fleming, all even. Best ball—Maryland, 1 up.

Grostzinger (G. W.) defeated Kimball, 2 and 1; Holmes (Md.) defeated Grady, 4 and 3. Best ball—Maryland, 3 and 2.

Punch (G. W.) defeated Cooke, 3 and 2; Leiberman (Md.) defeated Davis, 4 and 3. Best ball—Maryland, 3 and 2.

Hoyas Swamp Frosh Netmen

● ANOTHER WIN for Georgetown over the Colonial netmen was registered Friday when the Hoya yearlings defeated the Buff frosh team 7-1. Len Sokol, No. 1 singles man for the Colonials, saved the freshmen from a whitewashing by defeating Jerry Raskopf, Hoya star, 6-2, 6-4.

Buff Netmen Lose, 5-4

●IN A THRILLING exhibition of evenly matched, hard-fighting tennis teams, the Colonials dropped a disappointing 5-4 decision to the Hoyas last Wednesday at the Hilltop courts.

Georgetown gained an even break in the singles, and took two of the three matches in the doubles to earn the victory. After Colonials Elwood Davis and Murdaugh Madden had put the Buff ahead, 4-3, with an easy win, the top-ranked duo of Davey Johnsen and Bus Fleming lost a hard-fought match to tie the score at 4-all.

The No. 3 doubles team of Bernie Blankin and Frank Mann then "went down swinging," losing a long drawn out three-set match to Green and Boyer to hand the decision to the gentlemen of the Hilltop.

SINGLES—Johnsen (G. W.) defeated Martin, 2-6, 9-7, 6-2; Owens (G. U.) defeated Blankin, 6-4, 6-2; Fleming (G. W.) defeated Ritter, 6-4, 6-4; Davis (G. W.) defeated Watts, 6-3, 6-8, 6-4; Gelfand (G. U.) defeated Madden, 6-3, 7-5; Boyer (G. U.) defeated Mann, 6-1, 7-5.

DOUBLES—Martin and Owens (G. U.) defeated Johnsen and Fleming, 10-8, 4-6, 6-4; Davis and Madden (G. W.) defeated Ritter and Gelfand, 61, 6-2; Green and Boyer (G. U.) defeated Blankin and Mann, 5-7; 6-4, 6-2.

Johnsen Wins Y.M.C.A. Award

● DAVID JOHNSEN, youthful Colonial tennis star, was awarded the medal as the Central Y. M. C. A.'s outstanding athlete for the past year, at the annual banquet held last Saturday night at the Y. M. C. A. building.

Johnsen, who has been Y. M. C. A. indoor tennis champ for three years, is also a member of the badminton team there. In addition, Davy is currently enjoying a successful sophomore season as the No. 1 Buff tennis player. City tennis ranking for this year find him at the No. 3 spot in the men's singles division, and at the top of the men's doubles ladder with his partner, Hugh Lynch.

Freshman Nine Plays Maryland

● THE GEORGE WASHINGTON freshman baseball team played the Maryland frosh yesterday at Maryland.

Due to bad weather several of the games have been rained out. Coach Sunny Jones feels that the team will do all right as the players show a willingness to work, although there is nothing certain as yet. Among the freshmen on the squad are Joe Gallagher and Jim Fitzgerald of the court and Jim Dowd and Enrico, frosh footballers.

There is no definite schedule, but it is certain that Maryland will be met again, Western High and perhaps George Washington High.

Four Colonial Athletes Act As Internes

By DOTTY LEWIS

● FOUR BRAWNY, rugged Colonial athletes are now making their home as student internes at the National Training School for Boys on Bladensburg Road. The institution is a training school for delinquent minors in the country. Buff athletes at the school as instructors are "Sue" Babich, varsity football quarterback; "Babe" Nuegent, backfield man; Tony Barauskaus, giant tackle; and "Reds" Auerbach, of the basketball team.

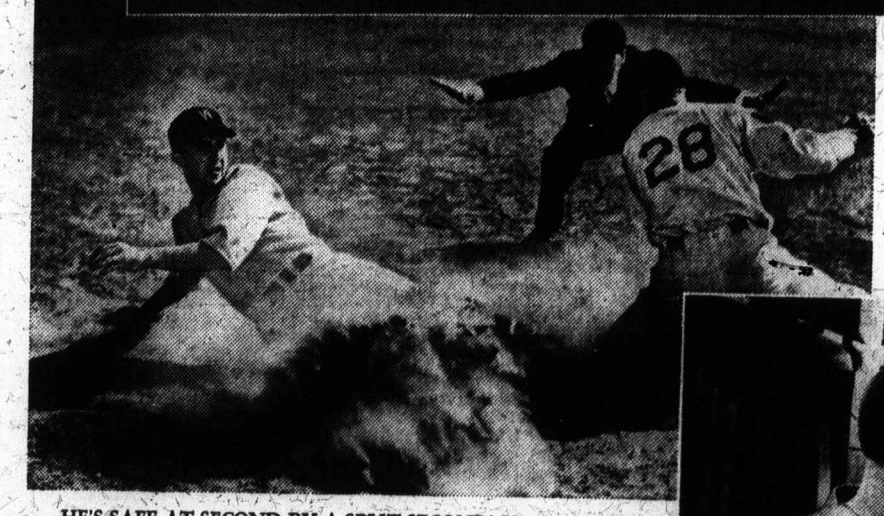

Their duty is to literally guard the boys although they are unarmed at all times. Each one of the athletes is in a different cottage made up of from 40 to 50 boys in each building. Besides guarding the boys, they also indulge in sports with them suc has softball and pool.

The work is not too strenuous for the huskies and it is excellent training for the four of them. They come across many interesting cases and have experiences interesting but educational and entertaining. However, the Colonial stars are reticent to discuss their work very freely.

However, Babich, Nugent, Barauskaus, and Auerbach admit the boys are very free in telling how they were committed to the institution and why they are there. "Some of the inmates even boast of their crimes.

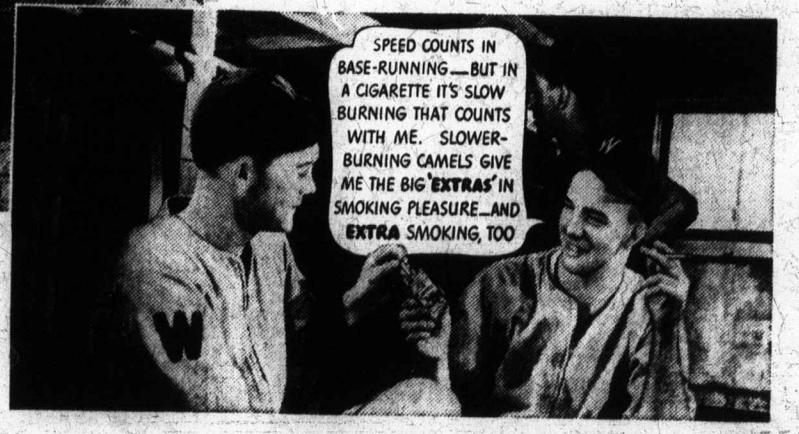

On the whole the internes seem to think that the delinquents are a pretty good bunch of boys who went bad because of various factors and they feel that after these boys are released they will follow the right road.

"FASTEST BASE-RUNNER IN BASEBALL"—

HE'S SAFE AT SECOND BY A SPLIT SECOND! Yes, it's another stolen base for George Case. He stole 51 bases last season . . . led the major leagues . . . won wide acclaim as the "fastest man in baseball." It makes your legs ache to watch him, he runs so hard . . . so fast. But when George lights up a cigarette, speed is out. "No fast burning for me," he says. "I always smoke the slower-burning brand . . . Camel. Camels give me several big extras in smoking."

OFF THE DIAMOND, George Case (below, right) prefers a slower pace . . . he likes to fish . . . smokes Camels a lot. He says: "Slower-burning Camels are more than mild—they're extra mild and extra cool. The more I smoke Camels, the more I like their full, rich flavor." Yes, the more you smoke Camels, the more you'll appreciate their extra mildness, extra coolness, and extra flavor.

Following The Socialites

By HELEN CARSTARPHEN, Society Editor

• IF IT'S NOT ONE THING it's another! Yes, elections and their aftermath are over and now the Interfraternity-intersorority sing looms up to try the time and patience of the Sing.

When you read this column, the decision will be made and the two cups all set to have more names engraved on them, but at present we are still in the dark, so will wish best of luck to everyone.

Time has been taken out from sing practices by some organizations, however, and the usual round of events has followed.

The Sigma Chis continued their policy of "showing the sorority girls a good time" Sunday when they held a tea dance for the Kappas at the House. We think it's a very nice custom.

Five Tekes, Chuck Lamon, Andy Anderson, F. B. Scott, Walt Sanders and Bob Woodward visited the All-Eastern Teke Conference over the week-end at the Pi chapter House in State College, Pa.

Teke Triangle Ball

The Teke Triangle Ball will share honors with the Cue and Curtain presentation of "You Can't Take It With You," next Friday night.

New officers of the Tekes are Charles Lamon, President; Perrin Kent, Vice-president; Milton Stockton, treasurer; William Deets, secretary, and Peter Mirras, recording secretary. Zeta also held elections this past week. New officers are Shirley Schafer, president; Betty Wilkinson, vice-president; Betty Freyburger, secretary; Anne Murany, treasurer; Betty Campbell, rush chairman; and Lucy Ohler, historian.

Ella Waters, Grand field secretary of Z. T. A. visited the chapter this weekend.

Long Tall SAE

Bill Stell, the long, tall SAE set a new record for staying pinned the shortest length of time. He pinned Shirley Cox, Thursday afternoon, but he got his pin back exactly three hours and forty minutes later.

By the way, those boys over on 16th Street seem to be getting rid of their pins in a big way lately. The latest (unless one has sneaked in on us in the last few minutes) is Allan Dewey — sweetheart pin to Chi O Doris Little.

Tim Swett was seen rushing out of Quigley's the other day, because he said that he didn't dare let any of the varsity house men see him in there. You see he was visiting some of the boys in another "lodge" who have permanent possession of "Quigley's corner."

Agreements Reached

Another pinning—Scottie Ebrite pinned Betty Brown last week-end, but it is off because they came to an agreement that it was a little premature. Another "off-pinning" is that classic of Johnny Strong and Helen Royall. It seems that they haven't been hitting it off so well for quite a little while now so.....

The Sigma Nus will be the guests of the KAs at a beer party Friday night because of the basketball game they won from the KAs last Fall.

Over three hundred Phi Sigs danced to the strains of Jimmy Livingston's band at their annual Carnation Ball last Friday evening at Hotel 2400. Phi Sigs and their dates from American, Maryland and the University saw Bud Fausold, tennis star and President of the A. U. chapter "pin" Marjorie Weaver, movie actress, now appearing at the Capitol, with a sweetheart pin.

Sigma Phi Epsilon will hold its colorful Spring sports dance at their fraternity house Saturday night to the strains of Jack Morton's music.

The Sig Eps also acted as hosts this week to their Grand Secretary, "Uncle Billy" Phillips, one of the fraternity's founders.

Mr. Arthur L. Atchinson, Regional Director of the Phi Sig chapter from Lexington, Ky., was guest at the Phi Sig house over the week-end.

The Theta Delts are looking forward to a dinner-dance which they will give Saturday night. S. A. E.'s Spring formal is scheduled for the following week at the Capitol Golf and Country Club.

The Sig Alphs also held a dance for the Minerva Club at the House last Friday night. Phi Mu sorority will hold its Spring formal Friday night at the Hay-Adams House.

"Tin Tabernacle" Is Scene of Annual Sing

• THE INTERFRATERNITY-Intersorority sing was held last night in the "Tin Tabernacle" but results were announced after press time.

The sing is an annual event with victors (one fraternity and one sorority) holding the cup for the coming year. Chi Omega and Sigma Alpha Epsilon were the winners last year.

Judges for the event were Prof. Anna Pearl Cooper and Francis Barnard.

Masonic Club Elects Officers

• THE UNIVERSITY MASONIC CLUB last Friday elected Monroe Williamson as president for the year 1940-41, selected the dates for the 1941 Cherry Blossom Drive for the benefit of the School of Government and arranged its calendar for the next year.

Elected to serve with Williamson were Franklin P. Hillman, one of who will be vice-president; LeRoy Irwin, who succeeds Williamson as secretary-treasurer; and Dr. Arthur F. Johnson of the Engineering School, who was re-elected faculty adviser.

The 1941 drive dates selected are February 19, 20, and 21, the three days just preceding the Washington's birthday convocation.

Other Players Listed

Others in the cast include Clinton E. Braine as Paul Sycamore, George Bishop as Ed, Jason Geiger as Mr. DePinna, Ann Blackistone as Mrs. Kirby, Ernest W. Payne Rheba, Sidney Hay as Donald, Alec Cunningham as Mr.. Henderson, and Bud Carlson, Dick Ballard, and James Bassford as the three G-men.

Strong interest in the last 1939-40 Cue and Curtain production is evidenced by numerous faculty requests for tickets and the usual fraternity and sority theatre parties. According to Frank Mann, President-elect of the Student Council, the entire Reform Party Student Council will attend opening night.

Tickets are fifty cents. All seats are reserved, and both tickets and reservations can be secured from 11 to 1 and from 4:30 to 6:30 through Friday and from 11 to 1 on Saturday at the special Cue and Curtain desk in the Student Club.

Sigma Kappa; A.D.Pi K.D. Install Chapters

• THREE SORORITIES on campus this week are celebrating the installation of new chapters at other universities.

Alpha Delta Pi installed their new chapter, Beta Chi, at Maryland University Sunday in the presence of delegates and national officers attending the Sorority Regional Conference here this week. Mrs. Sidney R. Stanard, of St. Louis, grand president, headed the distinguished guests present at the installation tea, which was held in the Home Economics Building of Maryland University, with members of the Baltimore Alumnae Association acting as hostesses. Members of the faculty and administration, as well as representatives of the various student groups on the campus, attending the tea.

Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. William H. Merrill of the Baltimore Alumnae Association, Mrs Dorothy Albert Curtis, Mrs. James MacManaway and Miss Marian Spielman.

Sigma Kappa Installs at Maryland

The Washington Alumnae Association of Sigma Kappa entertained at the Carlton Hotel Sunday afternoon at a reception honoring Beta Zeta chapter, installed Saturday at the University of Maryland. Members of the university faculty, representatives of other sororities on the campus and delegates of the Washington Panhellenic Association attended.

Mrs. Richard M. Wick of Allentown, Pa., grand counselor and former grand president of Sigma Kappa, headed the receiving line, which also included Dr. and H. C. Byrd, president of the university; Miss Adele H. Stamp, dean of women; Miss Helen Wilcox, faculty advisor of Beta Zeta chapter; Miss Elizabeth Spencer, Buffalo, N. Y., regional president of the sorority; Mrs. Harlow McCord, president of the Washington Alumnae Association; Mrs. John D. Baker, president of the Junior Alumnae Association; Miss Martha Hickman, president of Beta Zeta, and the other initiates.

Assisting at the tea table was Mrs. William C. Van Vleck, wife of the dean of the George Washington University Law School; Mrs. James Shera Montgomery, wife of the chaplain of the House of Representatives; Dr Ella M. A. Enlows, Miss Irene Pistorio. Miss Mary Agnes Brown, former grand secretary of Sigma Kappa; Miss Marion A. Brooks, national chairman of the sorority's examination Committee, and Mrs. George Wenzel.

Members of Zeta chapter also assisted.

Kappa Deltas Wear Ribbons

Members of Kappa Delta Sorority are proudly wearing green and white ribbons under their diamond pins this week in honor of their new chapter, Beta Zeta, installed Wednesday at the University of South Carolina. Installation services were held Wednesday evening in the Sorority Rooms at 802 21st street.

No Speeding! Justice Lever On Bench

• THE NAME WAS Justice Roy Lever this week when the smiling George Washington Law School junior announced that he had been officially sworn in as a Justice of the Peace of Neptune Township, New Jersey. Lever, who has held numerous campus political offices, achieved the unique feat of waging and winning his first civic political campaign while still in college.

Though his term officially begins at once, he seemed not at all perturbed by the fact that he could not return to Neptune until school adjourned in June.

"I will hold office by proxy," he said, "there are four other justices in town—I guess they can hold things till I get there." Neptune, a town of 20,000, boasts five justices of the peace, one elected each year for a term of five years.

His campaign began last summer when he solicited friends, who were legion, to add his name to the ballot of the Republican primary. Since the township is almost wholly Republican, winning the party primary assured him the election this spring. So far as he knows, he is the only justice of the peace in the country sworn under such unique circumstances.

Roy Lever will graduate from law school next year, completing an outstanding record at the University. He has been active in campus politics, serving as vice president of the senior class; president of the Interfraternity council, the Rousers, and Gate and Key. He has also served as president of his fraternity, Kappa Sigma.

Band Banquet Features Song, Clarinet Solo

• THE UNIVERSITY BAND held its annual banquet at the Kennedy-Warren Hotel Sunday evening.

Dean Kayser acted as toastmaster. Highspots of the evening were a clarinet solo by Francis Pierce, and the singing of several popular songs to which parodies have been written.

Mr. Brusiloff presented awards to a number of the band. Edward Bush received the Director's Cup; James Klaasse and Harry Paskowitz were awarded their Three-Year Keys; and sweaters were awarded to Richard Bush, Everett Beardsley, William Deeter, Marcia Crocker, Charles Folk, Arthur Vliet, William Hammer, William Jones, William Oliver, Francis Pierce and Kendall Twigg.

The committee in charge of the banquet was Marcia Crocker, chairman, Nick England and William Hammer.

Among the guests of honor were Dr. and Mrs. Cloyd Heck Marvin, Dean and Mrs. Elmer L. Kayser, Miss Anna P. Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Max Farrington, Dr. and Mrs. Robert H. Harmon and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Brusiloff.

Turkish Counsul Gives Luncheon for Artists

• YELDEX EROL and Filiz Erol, niece and daughter of the Turkish consul entertained two art students, Betty Caswell and Jerry Rosey, at a luncheon at the beautiful Turkish Embassy last Wednesday.

Alumni Ball for Seniors Postponed to June 8

• THE BALL sponsored by the Alumni for the seniors has been postponed until Saturday evening, June 8. The affair is to be held in the grand ballroom of the Willard Hotel.

Bob Crosby Will Select Song

• SORORITY GIRLS on every campus have been asked to submit their songs to Bob Crosby and his orchestra who are making a nation-wide search for a sorority song to rival the popular "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi."

In asking the "sisters" to submit their songs, Maestro Crosby said. "Women now have the vote, the barber shop and even the corduroy slacks, so it's high time one or more of their songs won the same recignition that has been accorded Sigma Chi."

Let us prove conclusively, he continued, that Sigma Chi's sweeheart isn't the only one who can inspire music!

A simple piano score, containing words and music, is all that's necessary.

Along this line Dean Hudson, whose up and coming young band is featured on the Toastchee Program. Wednesday at ten over WMAL, will feature a choral arrangement of the Kappa Sigma Sweetheart Song.

Fencing Club

• THE MEN'S FENCING CLUB will meet for practice sessions Thursday at 8 p.m. and Saturday at 2 p.m. in D-6.

Zeta Tau Alpha Wins Badminton Tournament

• ZETA TAU ALPHA emerged the winner of the women's Intramural Badminton Tournament by handing the Kappa Deltas a 15-8, 6-15, 15-12, defeat last Monday.

Kappa Delta reached the finals by winning the competition in League I. Sigma Kappa and Zeta Tau Alpha were victorious in Leagues II and II, respectively.

Zeta Tau Alpha then defeated Sigma Kappa 15-8, 15-7, but Sigma Kappa turned around and handed the Kappa Deltas a 15-12, 11-15, 15-13 drubbing. The Zetas' victory over the Kappa Deltas gave them the margin of victory.
